WILLKOMMEN VISIT

In the photo are: Randy Schroeder, Frandsen Bank & Trust; Theresa Keaveny, Sustainable Farming Association; Sandy Scheibel, Kemske; Kathy Van Roekel, NU-Telecom and Chamber of Commerce Board Chair.

There's a Keaveny has become a new member of the New Ulm Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Willkommen Committee met with her recently to welcome her. Theresa is the new Executive Director for the Sustainable Farming Association (SFA). She was most recently the Office Manager at the Brown County Museum, but she has a rural community/agricultural background, so this is a great fit for her. The Sustainable Farming Association of Minnesota supports the development and enhancement of sustainable farming systems through farmer-to-farmer networking, innovation, demonstration, and education. This is a state-wide 501c3 organization, and Theresa will be able to keep offices here in New Ulm. She is hoping to connect professionally with more chamber members here in the area and wants to let the community know about the services the Sustainable Farming Association offers. To learn more, visit www.sfa-mn.org. Welcome, Theresa!

Availability of Housing in New Ulm

- A house selling in 4 hours?
- Three new hired employees looking to buy the same house?
- New Ulm companies hiring new people but they are finding housing in other communities?

What is going on with housing in New Ulm?

Out of the NU 2020 Visioning Conference hosted by the New Ulm Area Foundation in November of 2016, the availability of housing came up as a top concern and priority for the community. To respond to this topic, a Housing Needs Initiative (HNI) was formed with members of local government and community leaders to address this need and facilitate collaboration between the groups.

At the May Hot Topics, we'll hear about the need and the progress from a panel of local realtors, employers and community leaders.

Join us for lunch at the New Ulm Country Club on Thursday, May 11 at noon. Cost is $10. Please RSVP to the New Ulm Chamber by Tuesday, May 9 by calling (507) 233-4300 or sending an email to chamber@newulm.com.
